NMN

A more beautiful future starts with plants.
“Botatural NMN” is born.

Maintain your beauty and health for longer. NMN is attracting attention as a material that holds the key, but the origin was unclear.

This time, we Bio are proposing a new product: plant-derived NMN.

The “Botatural NMN” series has been born, adding new value to botanical NMN.

We deliver our products with the utmost care, with trusted “Made in Japan” quality.

Power up with two forces of nature.
The red component is plant-derived NMN.

Beauty components of natural polyphenols

Pomegranate ellagic acid is a compound derived from the skin of the pomegranate. In the beauty field, it has been attracting attention for its ability to target melanin, and in the health field, the power against the damage such as exhaust gas and cigarette smoke is expected.

A type of natural carotenoid

Astaxanthin is a component found in shrimp, crabs, algae, etc. Among all carotenoids, it has particularly strong health maintenance power. Maintain health and beauty by repelling UV damage.

Glow from inside the body with Red capsules.

Orange-flavored,
easy-to-drink NMN!

In fact, NMN has a bitter taste, so simply making it into granules make it difficult to swallow. The orange flavour solves that problem. It is made to be delicious to drink.

Plant-derived NMN to cultivate future beauty.

How wonderful it would be if we could cultivate beauty year after year, just like growing greenery. Daily inner care makes this possible. To stay beautiful 5, 10 years from now, and beyond, we recommend Bio plant-derived NMN.

produces energy for life. It is present in the cells of all living organisms. It decreases with age, so NMN is needed to replenish NAD+. It is not possible to get enough NMN from your regular diet. This is why taking NMN supplements is so important.

Mitochondria within cells produce ATP, the energy source for activity. When the amount of ATP produced decreases, symptoms such as skin aging and fatigue appear. Mitochondrial function is indispensable for staying youthful every day.

Telomere is a part of a chromosome. The shortening of telomeres with age is related to aging and increases health risks. It is believed that if we keep our telomeres in good condition, we can expect to maintain good health. It is predicted.
